

THREE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR DEKALB

DURKKIN AND SCOTT FACE FATE TODAY

Two Slayers on Trial in Cook County Court Today

Editor's Note—Mrs. Martin Durkin, whose husband went to trial for murder in Chicago today, and one of the women who is expected to give damaging testimony against him, spent several days last week in Dixon visiting her brother, Ted Sullivan, who is a prisoner in the county jail as a result of an attack on an Amboy farmer several months ago.

Chicago, June 1—(AP)—The gauntlet through which Martin J. Durkin twice shot his way to freedom today led him to the courtroom to face the first of two murder charges and to confront as possible witnesses against him three former sweethearts.

The trial, for which a special venire of 100 has been summoned, is for the fatal shooting of Edwin Shanahan, federal agent whose death started the long hunt for Durkin which terminated with his arrest at St. Louis several months ago.

Shanahan was killed when he surprised Durkin, sought for an automobile theft, in a garage here last fall. The defense contends that Durkin had a large sum of money with him at the time, and that he shot in the belief that the agent was a bandit.

Women are Mystery

The unknown element in the trial is the testimony of the three women. Two of them Durkin deserted. The third is Irma Sullivan, 15 year old girl who married the youth during a brief stop in his flight to the Pacific coast. Irma was with him when he was arrested aboard a train in St. Louis.

Betty Werner, the girl who deserted her husband for Durkin and who was in turn deserted by him, is relied on by the state as one of its principal witnesses. The prosecution expects to obtain from her Durkin's story of the Shanahan shooting, although she did not witness it. Irma Sullivan may testify if it is established that she is not Mary's legal wife. For which side she will appear is uncertain. The state wants her to tell what Durkin related about his affairs on their fugitive honeymoon to California.

Claims To Be Wife

The third feminine figure is Ruth Flieback, who appeared after Durkin was arrested, announced herself as his legal wife and obtained a divorce. The state, seeking a hanging verdict, has a second murder charge which it will press should Durkin be acquitted of Shanahan's murder. It alleges the killing of a Chicago detective, shot to death with another man when a police ambush went astray during a visit of Durkin to the home of Betty Werner's uncle here several months before his final capture. The desperado asserted that the officer was killed by one of a fusillade of shots fired at Durkin when he fled.

Scott's Case Also Up

In another Chicago court today, the state was the sanity of Russell Scott, convicted slayer who thrice escaped death by hours and who recently was returned from an asylum to which he was committed as criminally insane. Judge William V. Brothers announced, after Scott had been found sane by three officials of the criminal asylum, that he would appoint a commission to examine the prisoner for the court at a hearing fixed for today. If found sane, Scott would be hanged under the finding of the jury which sent him to the asylum.

McSwiggin Inquest

Police Captains from every Chicago district, were summoned today by the special county grand jury, which convened with four days remaining in which to finish its investigation of the murder of Assistant State's Attorney William A. McSwiggin and of general Chicago crime conditions.

Reports of overtures by Al Capone, gangster chief sought in connection with the McSwiggin murder, for his surrender in Brooklyn to county officials, were due to materialize today if well founded, but State's Attorney Crowe continued his refusal to verify stories that Capone had offered to give himself up today. Two additional deaths were charged to elude war fare yesterday when Greek factions clashed in a south side residential district. Officials arrested many suspects and held John Kallos whom they said they had identified as the center of the automobile in which the killers fled. He said he had no part in the shooting.

WITNESS' HOME BOMBED IN RAD'S CASE THIS MORN

No One Injured in Latest Move of Radicals' Friends

West Bridge Water, Mass., June 1—(AP)—The home of Samuel Johnson, brother-in-law of Mrs. Elmon Johnson, one of the star witnesses for the state in the Sacco-Vanzetti prosecution, was dynamited this morning, but Johnson and seven members of his family escaped injury. The house was demolished.

The blast was heard and felt ten miles away. Although hurled from their beds and severely shaken, members of the Johnson family otherwise were unhurt.

The Johnson home is about a mile from that formerly occupied by Bartolomeo Vanzetti, who with Nicola Sacco, was tried and convicted for murder in connection with the robbery of a paymaster in South Braintree on April 14, 1920.

The case attracted international interest and radicals in many countries undertook to raise funds for the defense. When the men were convicted, numerous bombings were attributed to sympathizers and when the Massachusetts supreme court recently refused to allow an appeal, the decision was followed by the bombing of the United States Embassy at Buenos Aires.

Counsel for the defendants has announced a move to obtain a new trial. In the meantime a sentence of death has been stayed.

RIVER STEAMER, CARRYING 200, RAMMED TODAY

No Lives Lost as Big Hudson River Boat Goes to Bottom

New York, June 1—(AP)—Rammed by a steel barge loaded with 700 tons of oil the $1,000,000 excursion steamer Washington Irving sank in a dense fog in New York Harbor today after the two hundred passengers and the crew of 150 had been transferred to other boats.

Although no serious injuries were reported, numerous women fainted from excitement. Passengers were unanimous in praising the captain and crew for their coolness during the rescue work. Passengers reported that members of the crew formed a human chain over which to lower women and children to life boats.

Captain Deming reported that his boat was struck by a tanker which appeared suddenly out of the fog and after the collision, apparently continued on its way. The whole affair happened so quickly that no one on the passenger boat was able to obtain the name of the tanker. A large hole was ripped in the Washington Irving, just back of her port paddle.

The steamer was a $1,000,000 steel side wheeler built especially for the Upper River Traffic. She carried a crew of 150 and was said to be the largest river passenger boat in the world. When the crash came the crew passed among the passengers administering quiet and passing out life preservers. These efforts supplemented by the music of the ship's orchestra did much toward calming the excited passengers.

New Organ at St. Patrick's Church Dedicated Sunday

An audience which filled St. Patrick's Catholic church to the doors was delighted with the recital Sunday evening which marked the dedication of the fine new pipe organ in that church, everyone present finding much over which to enthuse in the masterful manner in which Max Garver Miranda of Beloit College handled the instrument and in the many beautiful tone effects which the new Bannet organ possesses.

SATURDAY TO BE DOOMSDAY IN CO. FOR GROUNDHOGS

Concerted Drive to be Made to Exterminate Pests on Farms

Next Saturday will be doomsday for the groundhogs of Lee county, for on that day, under the direction and auspices of the Lee County Farm Bureau a concerted drive on the pests will be waged by farmers throughout the county. It was first planned to stage this offensive June 2, but circumstances arose which compelled the postponement of the move until Saturday, and plans are now complete for the work on that day.

Calcium cyanide, deadly poison to the groundhogs, will be used to exterminate them in this county, three tons of it having been received by the Farm Bureau for distribution to the farmers and each farmer is asked to estimate his needs prior to Friday, when distribution will be made in various parts of the county.

Must Estimate Needs

One pound of the poison is sufficient to treat fifteen holes and farmers who have made surveys of their needs will have no trouble in estimating how much of the poison they will need.

Distribution will be made in various school districts of the county, the Farm Bureau having appointed individuals in these districts to handle the poison, and the list of these distributors will be published in The Telegraph later.

Those who wish the cyanide must take metal air tight containers or fruit jars with tight-fitting lids in which to carry it, and metal containers are preferable, since if they are dropped they will not break.

Complete instructions for using the cyanide will be given every farmer who applies for the exterminator Friday.

HEAVY HOLIDAY TRAFFIC RESULTED IN NUMEROUS MINOR AUTO ACCIDENTS

State Motorcycle officers today declared the week end traffic to be the heaviest since the organization's birth. Every state paved highway running out of Dixon was crowded from early Saturday until early this morning. There were several minor accidents on the highways in this locality, all being due to careless and reckless driving.

Two collisions took place yesterday afternoon about 3:30 on the Lincoln Highway, east of Dixon near the Joe Crawford farm. The cars were all damaged slightly but none of the occupants was injured. In both cases a reckless driver undertook to leave the line of traffic and pass other cars.

Yesterday morning two Ford cars crashed on East Third street near Dixon avenue. One of the cars, belonging to Sam Bennett, residing east of the city in the Bend, was turned over but the occupants escaped with only minor cuts and bruises and a general shaking up. Leo German was the driver of the car which struck the Bennett machine.

An Essex touring car was destroyed by fire at an early hour Sunday morning on route 2 between Sublette and Henkle. The car was driven by William Schuck of this city and he with several friends escaped uninjured.

Motorcycle Harold Lenox arrested William L. White of Portland, Ore., near Franklin Grove yesterday after he had run the motorcycle officer and two other cars into the ditch by reckless driving. White was brought to Dixon and fined $10 and costs for speeding.

Latrobe, Pa., June 1—(AP)—Joseph Crane of Detroit, a stunt air man, probably will live to tell the tale of his 1,500 foot fall from an airplane at Longview Field, Greensburg, last night. Crane dropped from a ship at an altitude of some 1,500 feet. His parachute failed to open, and the stunt man came down with terrific speed. He worked frantically, and about 100 feet from the ground succeeded in releasing one end of the parachute. This slackened his speed slightly, but he struck with great force on a barbed wire fence.

Doctors said today that his ankles were broken and he was cut about the face. They added that barring complications, he would survive.

"KEEP YOUR HERITAGE" IS CUSHING'S PLEA TO YOUNG AMERICANS MEMORIAL DAY

Veteran of Spanish-American War Delivered Unusual Address at Annual Exercises Held Here Monday Afternoon

Sail on! Sail on! Oh Ship of State
Sail on! Oh Nation, proud and great;
Sail on! Nor fear to breast the sea.
Our heart, our hopes, are all with thee,
Are all with thee. (Longfellow)

On a hot and sultry afternoon there passed through that city, bearing upon his shoulder the burden of the cross, the Martyr of Golgotha. And there went he, through the jeers of the rabble and the throng, to Calvary; and there he was crucified upon the cross he bore. After life had passed out he was taken down and placed in the tomb, and there, forever, stood that cross—a symbol to all the world—Substitution, Substitution. He gave that others might live.—Dewitt Talmadge.

Several very new ideas in Memorial Day orations were expounded in Dixon Monday, and as a result a very fair sized audience, considering the threatening weather, which gathered on the court house lawn was treated to a very happy surprise. The new ideas, which were surprising, as expounded by the speaker might be summarized as follows:

1—For the first time in many, many years, has one of the men who marched out of Dixon to do battle for his country been given an opportunity to appear as the orator of a Memorial Day service;

2—The people have listened to orators, politicians, etc., but according to the speaker there was "no axe to grind" on the platform yesterday. And that speaker proclaimed that he was glad to be there as "one of those who has answered his country's call, and as a wage earner";

3—Each war in which the United States has engaged has been on a principle of "Substitution." Some have died that the rest might live.

Prayer Against Pacifism
And on top of the fine and surprising address of the day, which was delivered by Major Sam Cushing of Dixon, retired, a member of the old Illinois National Guard and a veteran of the Spanish American War, the audience which stood for the benediction at the close of the exercise, as the rain was starting to fall, was thrilled by a prayer from a "man of the cloth," Rev. S. B. Quince of Bethel United Evangelical church, who beseeched God Almighty to "deliver us from a spirit of pacifism," to make us prepared to meet our duties and to bless the brave men, living and dead, whom yesterday's exercises honored.

Major Cushing's address was a remarkable Memorial Day address, and that it hit its mark was evidenced by the interest with which the even dozen of veterans of the Civil War, the Grand Old Army of the Republic, who were able to be out, and the other organizations listened to it. And at the close "Cap" was surrounded by friends who sought to clasp his hand and congratulate him, while Attorney John E. Erwin, chairman of the Dixon Memorial Assn., and sponsor of the Spanish War veteran as "Orator," also came in for complimentary remarks.

Preceded by Parade
The oration, which was a part of the usual Memorial Day exercises, followed the parade, in which a goodly number of school children, Boy and Girl Scouts, the members of the G. R. U. S. W. V., V. F. W., A. L. and their auxiliaries participated, led by the Y. M. C. A. Boys Band, which appeared in handsome white uniforms and which played like an organization of veteran musicians.

The parade followed the line of march as published in The Telegraph last week, went to the cemetery, where the children decorated the graves of the nation's heroes of all wars, and returned to the court house lawn, where the exercises were held.

Inspirational Program

The program was opened by the Boys Band which played Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" and an organ number with excellent effect, after which I. M. Goodwin, a veteran of the war with Spain and president of the Memorial Association, called the meeting to order, and called upon Rev. W. W. Marshall, pastor of the First Baptist church to invoke Divine blessing on the meeting. The Dixon high school boys glee club, under the able direction of Mrs. Bertha Bennett Rorick, sang two numbers of patriotic mien, and sang them well—"Sleep, Soldier, Sleep" and "Boys of the Old Brigade," after which President Goodwin called upon "the best little mayor of any city in the world" to introduce the speaker of the afternoon.

"The best little mayor"—Frank D. Palmer, mayor of Dixon—in acknowledging the introduction, said he felt like the widow of a man who had been exceptionally eulogized by the clergyman in charge of his funeral, and felt it necessary to look in the coffin after that eulogy to "be sure they weren't burying the wrong man."

But the Mayor became serious in a minute and reminded his hearers that the day was set apart for those noble men who sleep in "God's Acre" and for those who "came back"; at the same time pleading that all renew a vow to themselves to make the path brighter for those of the men and women who have answered their country's call, and also for the fathers and mothers who gave America the greatest body of fighting men the world has ever known, have put Old Glory on top of the world and have made the United States the most respected nation the sun has ever shown upon. He then introduced Major Cushing.

Oration Was a Treat

The Major's oration was a treat and inspiration. It came from the heart of a soldier and was delivered with all the courage and conviction of a fighting man, with all it was eloquent and deeply patriotic. Recalling that it is nearly three centuries since this nation was first settled by Pilgrims from the old world, the Major recalled that many things have happened in those 300 years, and in that time this country has been called upon to fight—but never in an unjust cause.

"We fought our way out of the wilderness," he said. "We fought for our independence, and we fought that no man could be held in bondage—bought and sold. We fought that a people oppressed might have a government like our own—by the just consent of the governed. We fought that the iron heel of militarism and autocracy might be subdued and the people of the world might realize the dawning of a real world's peace."

IVANHOE—

THE STORY THUS FAR—The scene is the England of Richard I. A party of knights, en route to a tournament, visits Cedric the Saxon, their leader, Brian the Templar, incurring Cedric's wrath by his admiration of Cedric's daughter, Rowena. One of the party, disguised as a palmer, or wandering friar, leaves the castle, rents armor and horse from a Jew and wins the tournament, overthrowing the famous knight, Bois-Guilbert. He crowns Rowena queen of love and beauty and sends Gurth, his

BOIS-GUILBERT HAD DISAPPEARED, TAKING WITH HIM REBECCA AND POOR ISAAC OF YORK WAS FRANTIC WITH GRIEF AT THE FATE OF HIS DAUGHTER. MEANWHILE PRINCE JOHN AND HIS FOLLOWERS, INCLUDING HIS ADVISER, WILDMAN FITZURSE, WERE FEASTING IN THE CASTLE OF YORK, WHEN DE BRACY, BLOODSTAINED AND WEARY, ENTERED.

RICHARD IS IN ENGLAND," SAID DE BRACY. "I HAVE JUST SEEN AND SPOKEN WITH HIM. PRINCE JOHN TURNED PALE. 'THOU RAVEST DE BRACY,' SAID FITZURSE. 'IT IS TRUE,' SAID DE BRACY. 'I WAS HIS PRISONER AND SPOKE WITH HIM.' JOHN WAS GREATLY AGITATED AND CALLED UPON FITZURSE TO SET OUT WITH A BAND OF MEN AND CAPTURE RICHARD."

"We have paid an awful toll in the blood of America's young manhood and today we pay our tribute to those who gave that this nation might endure. No American has ever been called upon to take part in an unjust war. Our wars have always been in the cause of humanity and justice."

Veneration for Warriors

"There is no finer thing in the national character of the American people than the veneration they have for those who have offered themselves in patriotic devotion on the altar of war for their country. Every man who has offered his life on the hundreds of battle fields where America has fought the good fight of justice and freedom, has his eternal monument in the hearts of the people—his soul goes marching on—and the inspiration and devotion of his example have been implanted in our hearts, and that spirit shall endure as long as the name 'America' shall last."

"Always, there has gone before embattled America that Flag of Freedom, over which hovers the spirit that guided our forefathers to this new land to build a nation, founded on the principles of equality and opportunity. It was that spirit that guided the meagre forces of Washington in the cheerless days of the early Revolution; it was written in every bloody foot-print that stained the frozen snows at Valley Forge; it was evident at Saratoga and it brought victory to the Continentals at Yorktown. That spirit won for Jackson at New Orleans, Perry on Lake Erie and perched high on the masts of Dewey's ships at Manila. We fought our way from Vera Cruz to Mexico City, and under the same spirit-guidance brother met brother from Bull Run to Appomattox—and after four years of struggle proved the dictum of our fathers that all men 'are created free and equal.'"

Tyranny Banished

"That same spirit sent men in '98 across the Caribbean Sea and to the far-off lands in the Pacific: it banished for all time the last vestige of European tyranny from the Western Hemisphere, and enfranchised a people who for centuries had borne the yoke of serfdom. That war, which to many at that time seemed insignificant, has gone down in the world's history as one of the greatest campaigns ever waged in the cause of humanity—and in addition to that it united the North and the South; it healed the wounds caused by that Civil War struggle and it showed us that in times of peace we should be ever ready to defend our rights."

"In 1917 we gathered together 4,000,000 of the nation's bravest and best, and sent 2,000,000 across 3,000 miles of ocean to carry the message to the Old World that democracy and squire, to pay the Jew for the armor. Gurth is held up by Robin Hood's men, who release him when they learn the palmer employs him. The palmer wins the final event of the tournament, aided by a strange knight. A strange knight in black armor, who helped him win the passage at arms, wanders through the forest and sups with a Friar Tuck, a Robin Hood's band, in a lonely hut. This knight is really King Richard, disguised while he marshals his forces against his usurping brother, Prince

John, who thinks him in the Holy Land. As the two sit in the hut, they are joined by Robin Hood in disguise. Meanwhile Bois-Guilbert and Bracy, with other knights, capture Cedric, Rowena, Isaac, a Jew money changer, and his daughter, Rebecca. Bois-Guilbert threatens to kill the prisoners and the Black Knight arrives to besiege the castle. The castle falls and the prisoners are set free. The Black Knight exacts loan from Cedric and disappears.

ISAAC OF YORK HAD DEPARTED FOR THE PRECEPTORY OF TEMPLESTOWE. THERE TO NEGOTIATE HIS DAUGHTER'S REDEMPTION FROM BOIS-GUILBERT, BUT ILLNESS CAME UPON HIM AND HE WAS FORCED TO STOP WITH A DOCTOR, NATHAN BEN ISRAEL. WHEN, ON THE NEXT MORNING, ISAAC WOULD HAVE DEPARTED, NATHAN REMONSTRATED WITH HIM.

"WHAT WANTEST THOU AT TEMPLESTOWE?" ASKED NATHAN. "KNOWEST THOU THAT LUCAS DE BEUMANOIR, GRAND CHIEF OF THE TEMPLAR ORDER, IS NOW HIMSELF AT TEMPLESTOWE?" "NEVERTHELESS," SAID ISAAC, "FOR HE KNEW THE DREAD REPUTATION THE TEMPLAR LEADER BORE, 'I MUST PRESENT MYSELF AT TEMPLESTOWE.' THEN HE EXPLAINED HIS CAUSE."

O'er the hand of the free
And the home of the brave."

Rochelle's sprinters came second with Dixon trailing in third place. CALIFORNIAN IS VICTOR IN HIS FIRST BIG RACE

Frank Lockhart Winner of Indianapolis Event Yesterday

Indianapolis, June 1.—(AP)—Frank Lockhart of Los Angeles, Calif., defeated a veteran campaigner of the bricks and pine bowls, though driving his first major engagement, won the fourteenth annual 500 mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway yesterday. The race was worth slightly more than $40,000 to him, lap prizes and accessory trophies and purses augmenting the $20,000 first money. He made his start in California road racing.

The race was stopped at the 175 mile mark by rain which combined with the oil spattered from twenty-eight racing cars to make the brick oval too treacherous for safe driving. Renewal of the downpour cut short the race at 400 miles.

Taking his second wind as the leaders neared the century post, young Lockhart forged to the front where he remained except for a momentary stop at the pits near the end of the race, and he was five miles ahead of the field when the white flag sent the tiny racers from the course.

Harry Hartz won second prize of $10,000 for the third time in his competition in this race. Cliff Woodbury pulled up third winning $5,000. Others who placed were Fred Comer, fourth; Peter De Paolo, fifth; Frank Elliott, sixth; Ralph Bratton, seventh; Ralph Hepburn eighth; Phil Shafer ninth and John Duff, tenth.

Sidelights

Right around 35,000 fans tempted cloudy skies to watch the Cubs and St. Louis battle to a draw, giving Cuba Park one of the best crowds of the season.

Each of Connie Mack's Athletics except shortstop Galloway, cracked out at least one safe bingle, Bishop, leading the way with four hits, one of them a double.

It was pretty warm in Cleveland, so umpires Dineen and McGowan doffed their whippoor uniforms and ran the game in natty grey flannels.

Howard Ehmke won his own ball game for the Red Sox in the opening tilt in the Boston program. The Athletic filinger and Lefty Grove each allowed six hits, but Ehmke waited until Haney got on in the eighth, with nothing but zeros on the score board, lifted a smart double to score the first run and was himself driven in with the second.

In splitting a doubleheader with the White Sox the Indians broke a losing streak of six straight.

Sterling Defeated in Games of the Week-End

Sterling's base ball team went down to defeat twice Sunday and yesterday before the Gulkerson Giants a Chicago colored team. Sunday's game went to the visitors, 5 to 2, and they also took the holiday battle by an 8 to 4 score. Both games were interesting.

Safety at Grade Crossings

We are entering upon the time of year when greater use is made of the public highways than at any other season. Highway traffic over railway grade crossings is at a peak during the summer months. It is therefore especially timely to call attention to the tragic results of being careless in crossing railway tracks.

The railroads are safer to work for and to ride on than they used to be. With more employees and more passengers, there are fewer accidents to employees and passengers. But accidents at grade crossings are increasing instead of decreasing. More persons were killed in grade-crossing accidents in 1925 than in any other year but one on record.

Grade-crossing accidents in 1925 resulted in the loss of 2,206 lives and the injury of 6,555 persons, an average of one person killed or injured every hour of the year.

The tragedy of such a record is that caution could have prevented every one of those accidents. The careful person is safe at any railway grade crossing, but to the careless person every crossing is dangerous. Safety or danger does not lie in the crossing; it lies in the person using it.

It is particularly difficult for the railroads to cope with the problem of safety at grade crossings. Their employees are constantly on the alert to prevent accidents, but the nation's business must be moved without delay, and railway trains cannot be stopped at every grade crossing without strangling the commerce of the country. Since the railroads are under the necessity of operating their trains over nearly a quarter of a million highway crossings—almost one for every mile of line—it is obvious that the final responsibility for safety at such places must rest upon those who cross the tracks.

Four out of every five accidents at grade crossings involve automobiles. The automobile ought to be an agency for safety at crossings. It can be controlled by a careful driver much better, for example, than a spirited horse can be controlled. But in the hands of an indifferent driver the automobile is an agency of destruction instead of an agency of safety—at grade crossings as elsewhere.

Every year the railroads carry on during the summer months a campaign for carefulness at crossings. Their 1926 campaign begins today. It should have the fullest possible measure of public support. Individuals and organizations can be of great help both by stirring up public opinion and by setting an example of carefulness. Much good work is being done by teaching habits of safety in the schools and among civic and community organizations. The press has given its powerful support. For all such co-operation the railroads are extremely grateful.

The Illinois Central System appeals to its patrons, employees and friends to co-operate in this campaign. The toll of life, health and property which carelessness collects from the American people at grade crossings is great, and the effort spent on the practice of caution is a wise investment.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM,
President, Illinois Central System.

CHICAGO, June 1, 1926.

They say I'm "fussy"

WELL, let that go. I'm ready to admit that so far as pipe tobacco is concerned, I've got ideas. And if insisting on a tobacco that won't bite the tongue or parch the throat is "being fussy," you can write "guilty" alongside my name, and I won't even appeal the charge.

I can't speak for anybody else, but personally I smoke for pleasure! So I smoke Prince Albert. I'll say I do. Right after breakfast, on up until I switch off the light for the night. Pipe-load after pipe-load. Day after day. Prince Albert treats my tongue as gently as a mother handles a brand-new baby.

They tell me it's the Prince Albert process that cuts out bite and parch. Fair enough. I'll testify before the well-known world that P. A. is the coolest, sweetest, most genuinely friendly smoke a fellow can get on this planet. You suspect that the minute you throw back the hinged lid on the tidy red tin and get a whiff of real tobacco.

Now, I'm telling you to be fussy about your smoking. Many a pipe-smoker has fooled himself when he should have been soothing himself with P. A. I say it pays to be fussy about anything that means so much to a man. What do you think?

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Philadelphia—Engravers have begun work upon the dies for the certificates which will be presented to the winners of the American Youth Award by the President of the United States in June.

The certificate will be of artistic simplicity of heavy parchment, bearing the dates 1776 and 1926, and steel engravings of Old Independence Hall and the Liberty Bell. The certificate will bear the signature of Mayor W. Frederick Kendrick, President of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, and of other Exposition officials.

The text of the certificates which the President will hand to the boy and the girl from each state includes the following: "This is to certify that the youth of—after due consideration of the fine ideals, the courage, heroism, sacrifice, leadership, and patriotism of their candidates for the American Youth Award have decreed that— and—are best entitled to represent them during the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of American Independence."

"Therefore, the directors of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition do present through the President of the United States this certificate and a medal in testimony of the high honor conferred upon this boy and this girl in their selection as the recipients of the American Youth Award, in this, the Sesqui-Centennial year of our nation's history."

The text of the certificate to be presented by the President to each teacher chosen for the American Teacher Award will read: "This is to certify that—has been adjudged the teacher who has accomplished the greatest good for the pupils of— the judge being a committee acting under and by virtue of the authority invested by the directors of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition. "This committee having decreed her the teacher best entitled to represent her fellow teachers during the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of American Independence, the directors of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition do present through the President of the United States this certificate and a medal in testimony of the high honor conferred upon her as the recipient of the American Teacher Award, in this, the Sesqui-Centennial year of our Nation's history."

With each certificate will be presented a medal of appropriate design. The presentation ceremonies will be held in the White House during the week of June 28 to July 5.

That week, which has been designated as American Independence Week, will be observed throughout the country, and the winners of the Awards will be guests of the Exposition the entire week. All of their expenses will be paid from the time they leave home until they return.

The American Youth Award and the American Teacher Award have been established as a tribute to the youth and teachers of America by the directors of the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition, which will be held in Philadelphia from June 1 to December 1 in celebration of 150 years of American Independence. The Award is open to all boys and girls between the ages of 13 and 19, and to all women teachers. Each state and the District of Columbia has been invited to seek out its most outstanding boy and girl and woman teacher and these three will come to Philadelphia as guests of the Exposition for American Independence Week, June 28 to July 5.

BROKEN HEARTS OF HOLLYWOOD

BY EDWARD CLARK

Copyrighted by Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.
"BROKEN HEARTS OF HOLLYWOOD" with Louise Dresser is a Warner picture of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Betsy Jean Terwilliger, a girl of surprising beauty, and Hal Chumley, a handsome young man, are roommates and mutually attracted. Each learns that the other is bound for Hollywood as prize winner of a newspaper contest, to get a movie tryout. Greatly thrilled, they arrive in Hollywood and take rooms in the same boarding house—a place frequented by movie actors. The landlady and Betsy's face strongly resemble the first meal some movie oldtimers discourage the couple, but Marshall, a hang-around, champions Betsy.

Marshall went on to explain, then, for Betsy's benefit: "Mary Pickford and others like her were the children of accidental fortune. Today, I can teach a girl—a beautiful, intelligent girl like you—more screen technique in one hour than Pickford and her like learned in their first ten years."

Betsy was by this completely restored to her former heights. Ecstatically she began, guided by Marshall's skillful questions, to tell all about herself—about her background, her ambitions, the contest.

If Hal at first felt his nose out of joint, his presence out of the picture, he did so with redoubled vengeance when, after supper was concluded and adjournment had been effected to the fragrant, night-soothed porch, Betsy presently was alone on a two-seat swing at a far side of the porch with Marshall, who engaged her in earnest discussion, obviously conferring "fatherly" advice.

When they had first come out on the porch Betsy, loyally conscious of Hal, had insisted, without encouragement from Marshall, that Hal join them. He had done so, but the inevitable clash with Marshall had not been long in coming, bearing out the feeling that had been growing upon Hal that there was an instinctive enemy by laws writ when the tribes of men were motion.

"You'll be wonderfully successful here, little lady," Marshall had said to Betsy, providing the music her heart desired, "and I'll see to it that you get a fair chance. There's plenty of room at the top for smart and beautiful girls. I know, for more than one of the present stars will be only too glad to tell you that they owe their success to my teaching and guidance. That's my business. And I'll be delighted to help you find a real job."

"Miss Terwilliger has a job—a contract—with the Amalgamated Studios. She doesn't need any help," broke in Hal, his voice brittle and frosty on the warm night air.

Betsy, sensing the subdued fire in Hal's manner, glanced at him in surprise; but before she could open her mouth, Marshall snapped: "I'm looking toward the future, when her Amalgamated contract runs out; after all, it's only for two months."

"Yes, but by that time they'll want her for life!" exclaimed Hal stoutly.

Marshall, aware of the grateful and affectionate smile for Hal that glowed upon Betsy's white face in the dark, turned quickly upon a new tack. He shrugged his shoulders carelessly, in a very wise, very sophisticated, very mysterious implication that all was not so simple and above-board as that in the realm of screen endeavor.

"Even for a girl with brains, beauty and talent, there are many barriers to be breached," he explained virtuously to Betsy, studiously continuing to slight Hal. "And only the advice and encouragement of an experienced friend can keep a girl from bruising her heart beyond repair and losing her talent on those rocks."

"Rats!" declared Hal on general principles. "Who's Hal?" chided Betsy. "You shouldn't be so cynical. Mr. Marshall is anxious to help us, and I appreciate his kindness. He's the first person we've met here who's painted anything but black pictures for us."

"Well, I, for one, prefer to get along on my own two feet. I'll say good-night!" declared Hal, plucked. He turned abruptly and walked away.

Two far different looks followed his tall, loose figure across the dim porch: one, Betsy's bewildered and pained; the other, Marshall's, triumphant.

The pleasant elderly actor—Hammins, by name—who had defended the contest winners at the supper table was waiting for Hal near the doorway, evidently on purpose. "Who's that little girl, anyhow?" he asked. "Several of us old timers have been struck by the fact that she seems to remind us of someone. Whom we don't know. But it stands to reason that as most of our contacts have been in these lines, it must have been someone on the stage or in pictures. Has she ever spoken of any relatives who are theatrical folks?"

"No," said Hal, who despite his pique, thrilled to the hint of mystery about this alluring little girl to whom he had given his soul's homage, and who, in turn, seemed to—well, at least, like him. "All I know is that she's an orphan."

They talked a while more, rather awkwardly, for even the subtle Hal could detect that there was something on Hammins' mind; something that he hesitated to voice. But at length the old fellow blurted tentatively:

"Seems like Marshall has lost no time in striking up a lively acquaintance with the girl."

Hal nodded glumly, wondering why Hammins had beaten around the bush to bring this up—why, in fact, he had brought it up at all. Hal presently explained:

"Miss Terwilliger is so fine and sincere in her determination to make good that she is anxious to receive as much advice as possible, from anyone."

"From anyone?" is an apt designation in the case of Marshall. The girl's idea of seeking counsel is well and good up to a certain point; but she'd better be careful as to whom she depends upon for such guidance."

Hal took quick fright. "What—what do you mean? That this man will try any monkey business?"

"Young fellow," warned Hammins in a low, guarded tone, "I'm telling you this for your own good—and here, Marshall, there, is a thorough rotter. The sort of man who means no good by any girl in whom he takes an interest. He's responsible for many of the broken hearts of Hollywood. Look to it, son, that he doesn't add yours and the girl's to his dirty record!"

CHAPTER IV.

Of all unpropitious times to apply at a motion picture studio for a job, or to confirm one, the worst is when a conference is in progress. And as there is rarely a moment of the day or night when a conference of some nature or other is not going on, it would seem to follow that no time is a good time for an applicant or an embryo to show an ambitious face at the casting director's railing.

Conferences . . . conferences . . . conferences!

Conferences big, and conferences small . . . short and long . . . lean and fat . . . morning, noon, and night . . . breakfast, luncheon and dinner . . . dawn, twilight, and midnight . . . here, there and everywhere.

There you have a word's eye picture of the moving picture industry at its worst—and best. For strange to say there is a method back of all this seeming mad waste of time; a reason d'être, and it is this: conferences are the dynamo that make the reels go round, that foster the breathless and spontaneous interplay of fact and folly, idea and hunch, upon which the lifeblood of this business depends. What is transacted in less ferocious industries and enterprises by dignified interoffice correspondence and the systematic use of the written word, is accomplished in motion picture studios by shout and bluster, intrigue and chicanery; the orderliness of the commercial world is here replaced of necessity by the helter-skelter hit and miss methods of a business whose sales virtues are predicated upon novelty of ideas, not upon traditions of service policy; whose success lies in the whimsical measure of its entertainment values, and not in an economic niche as a staple commodity.

NEIGHBORS' WIVES

ERNEST LYNN, author of THE YELLOW STUB

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JOHN and FAY MILBURN, to whom a baby girl has just been born, think they are justified in buying a home of their own when the young advertising agency in which John is a partner lands an important new contract.

John does all the firm's advertising copy writing. His partner, NATHANIEL ABRAHAM, takes care of the business details.

Previous chapters told how John, while Fay was in the hospital, met NEIL ORME at a swimming party and was attracted by her beauty and puzzled when PAT FORBES, his host, told him Neil was having trouble with her husband. Forbes, who has a wife and three children, hints to John that he is dissatisfied with his own marriage.

Shortly after the Milburns settle in their new home they give a housewarming and PAUL DAVIDSON, a bachelor lawyer who is also something of an amateur actor, precipitates an argument by declaring marriage is a barbarous institution.

One of Fay's neighbors, a MRS. BLODGETT, calls and Fay thinks she is an "old snoot." Their baby, JUDITH, passes through a siege of whooping cough and John's best friend, DR. DICK MENEFEE, treats her. Menefee is engaged to MARGARET WAYNE and the wedding is set for October 15. Margaret's sister, CLARA, gives a party in honor of her own fiancé, CLIFTON LANE, whom John instantly dislikes. He speaks high-sounding of his brokerage business and his golf, but John thinks he is a four-flusher, and tells Fay.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

(The names and situations in this story are fictitious.)

CHAPTER XIV

THE wedding of Margaret Wayne and Dick Menefee had been set for October 15. Two weeks before, while the Wayne household was in the midst of half hysterical preparation, Clara Wayne and Clifton Lane ran off and got married.

Fay and John were in the middle of a discussion concerning raising the pay of the girl they had come in to take care of Judith when they went out at night, when the phone rang and Dick Menefee's voice broke the news to John.

John said the first thing that popped into his mind. "What a cheap theatrical trick—but you won't let it make any difference to yours and Margaret's plans, will you, Dick?"

"Not a chance," said Menefee grimly. "We're going right ahead with them. Clara said in her telegram that she would be back to be Margaret's maid of honor. Matron of honor now, I guess," and he laughed.

"Where did they get married, Dick?"

"In Milwaukee, Lane's home town. She took a train and met him up there, and they left on a motor trip. John hung up the receiver and met Fay's questioning eyes.

"Clara and Lane ran off together and got married," he announced, and Fay, after exclaiming once, was stricken wordless with surprise.

"I told you," he continued, "I didn't like that guy Lane. Now I like him even less. If that's possible."

"But Margaret?" gasped Fay. "Think of the awful thing Clara has done to her."

"Eh? What do you mean?"

"Refusing to let her older sister get married first, after all the plans had been made. It's the most selfish thing I ever heard of."

"Oh, well," said John, "trying to justify Clara somehow, 'maybe Clara didn't look at it that way. Maybe she's just nutty about this guy Lane and snapped him up when he proposed an elopement.'"

"Nothing of the kind," said Fay sharply. "You can't tell me that."

William Bohart is making some much needed improvements on his residence property south of the tracks this week.

Mrs. Martha Heibenthal visited several days this week with her sister, Mrs. Mary Wiener in Dixon.

Conrad Smith is having carpenters at work at his home west of town erecting the new oil station which he is building.

The school directors are having the water fountain dug up at the high school grounds to find out why it was not working. A clogged overflow pipe seemed to be the trouble.

"Oh you men!" Fay exclaimed impatiently. "You never will understand."

Clara hasn't had this planned for a long time. My! I feel so sorry for Margaret I don't know what to do."

"Well, she won't need your sympathy. She's marrying Dick Menefee, and the wedding's only two weeks off. That ought to make her happy enough."

"Oh, you men!" exclaimed Fay impatiently. "You never will understand."

"I admit," said John, a little nettled, that the workings of the feminine mind sometimes are a little bit beyond me. I guess I don't understand. To me it looks as if Lane and Clara were trying to grab off the spotlight for a while, but their elopement will be a thing of the past soon and Margaret's wedding will be the main issue. Besides, by eloping they won't get as many presents as they would have if they had waited."

"Oh, you make me tired," snapped Fay. "This thing was Clara's doing all the way through. Imagine—marrying ahead of her older sister that way."

John retreated to his book.

Four days before the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Lane returned to Chicago, were forgiven by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne and Margaret, and immediately threw themselves into the preparations for Margaret's wedding, as if in atonement for their sins.

HOLY BIBLE CITED TO D. S. GRADUATES AS GUIDE TO THOUGHT AT BACCALAUREATE

Ninety Young People Heard Word of God Held Up as Imperishable Work by Rev. Brandfeller

The Holy Bible was placed before ninety young people who will this week graduate from the Dixon high school as an inspiration for their thinking and a guide for their lives by Rev. Frank Brandfeller, pastor of Grace Evangelical church, in a masterful sermon delivered at the annual baccalaureate services for the class, held at the Auditorium in Assembly Park Sunday evening, in which the protestant churches of the city joined.

It was an impressive service in every way, and a large congregation met to hear the Grace church pastor's advice to the nearly a hundred young people who compose one of the largest classes ever graduated from the Dixon high school.

Inspirational Service.
The service opened with a Processional played very well by the orchestra of the Grace Evangelical Sunday school. Mrs. O. E. Strock directing the organization exceptionally well. Rev. A. W. Carlson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, invoked divine blessing on the service, following which the big congregation joined in the thrilling strains of "America," led by the choir of Grace church, under the able direction of Miss Vivian Graves. The choir then sang excellently the anthem, "Christian, the Morn Breaks Sweetly O'er Thee," and Rev. S. B. Quinlan, pastor of Bethel United Evangelical church, read the Scripture lesson for the evening, II Tim. III: 1-17. Miss Graves' rendition of "The Holy City" was exceptionally well given and was a perfect forerunner for the inspirational prayer, offered by Rev. A. W. Carlson in the absence of Rev. W. W. Marshall of the First Baptist church, who was unable to take part in the service as planned.

A fine cornet solo by Mrs. Fred Kroehler and a selection by the Grace Sunday school orchestra completed that part of the service preliminary to the sermon, which was followed by an anthem, "Abide With Me," by Grace church choir, the Benediction by Rev. Morton Hale of the Congregational church, and a postlude by the orchestra.

commended the Bible as the national Book of America. John Quincy Adams, Zachary Taylor, Grover Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, W. G. Harding and our present president Mr. Coolidge have not only given their names and influence, but special service for the spreading of the Bible.

Our presidents seal their oath of office by kissing the Blessed Word.

Why this outstanding testimony in favor of the Bible? It is the Imperishable Book and as such it is not only human but divine. Even as our Lord was born of the Virgin and became the Son of Man and yet Divine as the Incarnate Son. The thought of God has been given a body in the language of men. We see the stamp and seal of the Lord Jesus upon the authenticity, reliability and the divinity of the Scriptures. Have you ever heard a man say words like those that fell from the lips of the Son of God—"Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my word shall never pass away." No mere man could utter such words. Our Lord referred probably more than 400 times to the Old Testament scriptures. Some references in the Gospels, as made by Him were, to the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah; destruction of Tyre and Sidon; Jonah's incarceration in the sea-monster; the healing of Naaman, etc. No one can minimize the Scripture without dishonoring our Lord Jesus. The Imperishable Book in its writing covered a period of 1600 years, was written by about 40 sanctified men, even the Psalms covered a period of 1000 years in its completion. The Bible is today as always, in the midst of fierce conflict. There are only two references to God writing in the Bible, one at the time when God wrote the Law on the tablets of stone when Moses was on the mount and when Moses came down from the mount he saw the Israelites worshipping the golden calf and he cast the tables of the law to the ground; the other instance when our Lord wrote on the sand as recorded in the eighth chapter of John's Gospel. Man has erased the writings of God.

I believe the Bible to be the imperishable Book because it is: Supernatural in its origin; accurate in its prophecies; inerrant in its contents; divine in its spirit; living in its nature; faith-bringing in its ministry; Christ-revealing in its witness; and God-glorifying in its proclamation.

There are some among preachers and sometimes teachers, who ridicule the Bible or throw some slurs at it. But the Bible with its 66 books all bound up in a single volume is in perfect harmony, which otherwise would be a muddle, but all these books dovetail into one another in such a way as to be inseparable. No doubt every one of you young people here tonight have a Bible in your home. A book bound with covers. It's one thing to have a book and another thing to have "The Book." Let us notice what the Bible teaches.

I am not going to tell you everything the Bible teaches because I could not do that, but I want to bring you some outstanding facts that are fundamental to Christianity and Protestantism. First: what does the Bible teach about God Himself. It

The Bible or throw some slurs at it. But the Bible with its 66 books all bound up in a single volume is in perfect harmony, which otherwise would be a muddle, but all these books dovetail into one another in such a way as to be inseparable. No doubt every one of you young people here tonight have a Bible in your home. A book bound with covers. It's one thing to have a book and another thing to have "The Book." Let us notice what the Bible teaches.

I am not going to tell you everything the Bible teaches because I could not do that, but I want to bring you some outstanding facts that are fundamental to Christianity and Protestantism. First: what does the Bible teach about God Himself. It represents Him as the One uncaused, uncreated, eternal being in the universe, without beginning and without end. God revealing Himself as a True God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit. As Supreme, Sovereign and Love.

If the Bible is not inspired where did the Old Testament writers get their conception of God? There is only one answer: "Holy men of God spoke as they moved by the Holy Ghost." If we acknowledge that God is, then nothing is more certain than that He should reveal Himself to His people. In the second place let us notice what the Bible teaches about men. Instead of teaching that man began at the bottom and he is slowly climbing towards the top, it declares that he commenced at the top and through his own wickedness has fallen to the bottom. Man is pictured as a sinner. As the Psalmist said "Behold I was shaped in iniquity and in sin did my mother conceive me." The Bible declares there is none righteous, no not one. Such a picture of human nature was never made by the human mind. Man is too proud a creature to depict his depravity. In the third place what does the Bible teach about the world. I do not mean the universe but that which the Bible refers to as the world-system. Man thinks highly of the world—it is the product of his own hands and he looks with satisfaction upon it. The Bible condemns the world and speaks of it as an evil world. "If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him." Young people you cannot enjoy the things of the world and still be good Christians. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. You have heard the preacher say the world is getting better. Along the line of invention and education perhaps it seems that it is true. But according to the Word of God it is not so. What does the Bible say about sin? Too many look upon sin as a mistake, an error and the sinner is to be pitied. God finds every one of us as sinners. "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." Unless there is that moral responsibility realized on the part of men, whether educated or uneducated its result will be the same. We have heard or perhaps seen examples of sin. Then there is the punishment of sin. A defective view of sin necessarily leads to a defective or inadequate conception of that which is due sin. The Bible lets us know what God thinks about it. Adam committed sin result of which was physical and spiritual death. So with us because of Adam's sin, death is passed upon all and unless we are saved we will experience the second death. The cry "enforce the law" is heard on every hand. It is being neglected in the school room, the home and in civic life. Do away with capital punishment (a law given by God and never repealed) is the urgent cry. If we were to do away with policemen and the jails in the city of Dixon we would have the same conditions here as prevailed in Boston a few years ago when the policemen of that city went on a strike. The people took the law into their own hands and there was turmoil and destruction on every hand. We need law, and its enforcement, by means justifiable which bring about in a measure the needed results. In closing let me show you what the Bible teaches about salvation from sin. If we were to stop here, there would be no hope. There is only one way out of the dark and that is through the Bible. Salvation through the Lord Jesus Christ is God's way. The central point in the Hebrew and Jewish ritual was the atonement for sin through the Messiah. Four hundred and fifty Messianic prophecies culminating in the incarnation, not only in the first coming of our Lord but also pointing to the time of His return. God's solution to the sin question is SUBSTITUTION.

The Bible is a revelation of man's sin and God's salvation. Men are not saved by reformation, education or by any thing that they may do, but only by the Lord Jesus Christ who died for sinners. It is the teaching of the Bible concerning God's way of salvation that again demonstrates its Divine origin. This Word will stand the test. It is sure and steadfast. "Thy Word O Lord is forever settled in heaven." It is the Bible you will need as young people going out into life. Whether it be in the home, or in the study while at college. You will need it to guide you aright. Rousseau in speaking of the Bible said: "The majesty of the Scriptures astonishes me, and the simplicity of the Gospels speak to my heart." I would urge you to study it studiously, systematically and prayerfully.

"For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth in him would not perish but have everlasting life."

Ample Permanent Security

—One reason why Forman Bonds are Guaranteed

One of the chief reasons why a leading insurance company will, at the option of the investor, place its unconditional guarantee of principal and interest upon every Forman Bond, is the CERTAINTY that every Forman issue is backed by ample permanent security.

Forman issues are secured by income-producing city real estate—valuable property which is advantageously located in established, well-populated and progressive metropolitan districts.

Not only must a wide margin of security protect the bond holders, but there must also be absolute certainty that assured earnings greatly exceed any annual interest and principal requirement.

See our local representative for complete information regarding current issues yielding 6 and 6½ per cent.

WONDERFUL NEW REMEDY FOR YOUR ACES AND PAINS

Linament They Use on Big League Ball Players Like Coveleski

STOPS ACES, PAINS, STIFFNESS, QUICKLY

Big league baseball stars like Walter Johnson, Bucky Harris, Ty Cobb, George Sisler, Coveleski and others cannot afford to be laid up with aches, pains, swollen joints or stiffness a single day, so they must use the best remedy money can buy.

The liniment they use out at the ball park works like lightning and in a jiffy relieves aches, pains, stiffness and swollen joints due to sprains, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia, etc. A thousand times each baseball season this wonderful liniment does its work in big leagues, professional and amateur baseball circles and yet this liniment they use is so mild it would not harm a baby's skin and never blisters no matter how much you rub it in or bandage it up. The liniment is named after the famous trainer, Mike Martin, the man who for years was trainer of the New York "Yankees," Cincinnati "Reds," Columbia University, etc., and who now is trainer of Washington's 1924-25 American League Champion Baseball Club, and the Washington Palace Club of the American Professional Basketball League.

It is called Mike Martin's Liniment. Local druggists are featuring it. Any person suffering with aches, pains, lame back, rheumatism, swollen joints, stiffness, neuralgia or neuritis should get a bottle. It is pleasant to use, never stains and by rubbing a little into the sore, stiff, achy parts you get almost magic relief. Ball players often catch cold, get stiff, sore or bunged up and come to the ball park hardly able to walk, yet out they come from a good rub with Mike Martin's Liniment, as lively, full of pep and ginger as anybody could wish. Watch them scamper and prance in rain or shine. You'd never dream they ever had an ache or pain in their lives. Mike Martin by making this liniment available to the general public in drug stores is doing a great thing for those who suffer. If reader lives out of town and druggist hasn't it, write Mike Martin, Ball Park, Washington, D. C., and he will send a large size bottle with full directions, parcel post, for $1. The White Cross Drug Store and all druggists sell smaller trial size bottles for a few cents—Adv.
